Fighting Human Trafficking

The Oppressed in our Midst

Human trafficking is a massive issue in our world today, enslaving nearly 30 million people globally. Statistics show that up to 10 million Filipino men, women, and children are exploited through sex trafficking and forced labor in this $40 billion-dollar industry.

Join the Fight

To join the fight against human trafficking, World Team's desire is to offer preventative measures to hinder trafficking before it starts. We are developing communities where we serve to offer alternatives to exploiting children and other family members.

Helping people complete their high school education through the Alternative Learning System equips the most vulnerable with upward mobility and an opportunity to assist their impoverished families. Livelihood projects build value and worth into families, encouraging moms and dads to explore healthier options than trafficking or forced labor.

Our hearts ache for the oppressed in our midst. Join us in this fight for freedom!

Transformation Through the Gospel

Ultimately, we know that the only cure for the depravity of the human heart is the gospel. Everything we do is bathed in the good news that Jesus came to seek and save the lost—and to set the captive free.

Our hope is that transformed hearts will transform lives, families, and whole communities. The gospel places value in the truth that every individual is made in the image of God and created to worship, glorify, and enjoy him forever.
