What is this field/ministry?

World Team has had a holistic church planting ministry among the Baka of Cameroon for three decades. The Baka have traditionally lived a hunter/gatherer lifestyle but are in the midst of a changing culture and environment. This change has presented challenges and opportunities to the Baka people. We are working with Baka disciples in several areas, including discipleship, Bible teaching, translation, literacy, trauma healing, agriculture, and sustainable development, with the goal of developing Baka believers and growing and multiplying churches.

What is this opportunity?

Annabella has been home-schooled since preschool and will soon enter her 8th-grade year. She often works independently but would really benefit from a tutor who could provide guidance and instruction when needed, as well as being a potential mentor and friend. It is our hope that we can be a blessing to you as you bless our family and team with your presence.

Jenn, Annabella's mom, has work responsibilities, and a tutor would free up her time and allow her to focus on ministry to the Baka.

This is also a great opportunity for the tutor to experience missions firsthand. Opportunities to minister directly to the Baka can be arranged and are encouraged. Because of the village's remote nature, it does not have all of the comforts of a more developed area, though indoor plumbing and solar electricity are provided. Wifi and cell service are limited.

What will I do?

- Prepare daily lesson plans from the supplied curriculum
- Oversee daily school work, including one-on-one instruction as needed
- Grade and check school work
- Identify areas for improvement and work with the parent to develop a plan to address these areas
- Engage in daily family and community activities
